Welcome to the Association of Clean Water Administrators (ACWA)!

Thank you for becoming a member of ACWA. Your membership reflects your commitment to the promotion of clean water everywhere for everyone.

ACWA is the independent, nonpartisan, national organization of state, interstate, and territorial (hereafter referred to as “state”) water program directors, responsible for the daily implementation of the Clean Water Act’s (CWA) water quality programs. Originally established in 1961, as the Association of State and Interstate Water Pollution Control Administrators (ASIWPCA), in 2011, we became ACWA – the Association of Clean Water Administrators. ACWA is the only nationally recognized organization whose entire agenda and mission are set by a Board of Directors and Leadership composed entirely of state/interstate water quality program administrators and managers.

ACWA strives to convey the shared perspective of state/interstate/territorial water quality agencies at the national level. We facilitate a dialogue between water quality agencies, as well as Congress and the Administration. We offer forums for the exchange of technical and innovative program information among water quality professionals, and we promote public education on water quality issues. ACWA’s work over the years has consistently furthered the specific interests of the federal/state partnership in developing and implementing water quality protection programs.

In this packet you will find the following resources to help you get acquainted with ACWA:
